Now, nearly twenty years after introducing the textiles that transformed table-setting, Chilewich has developed a design solution for the “back of house.”

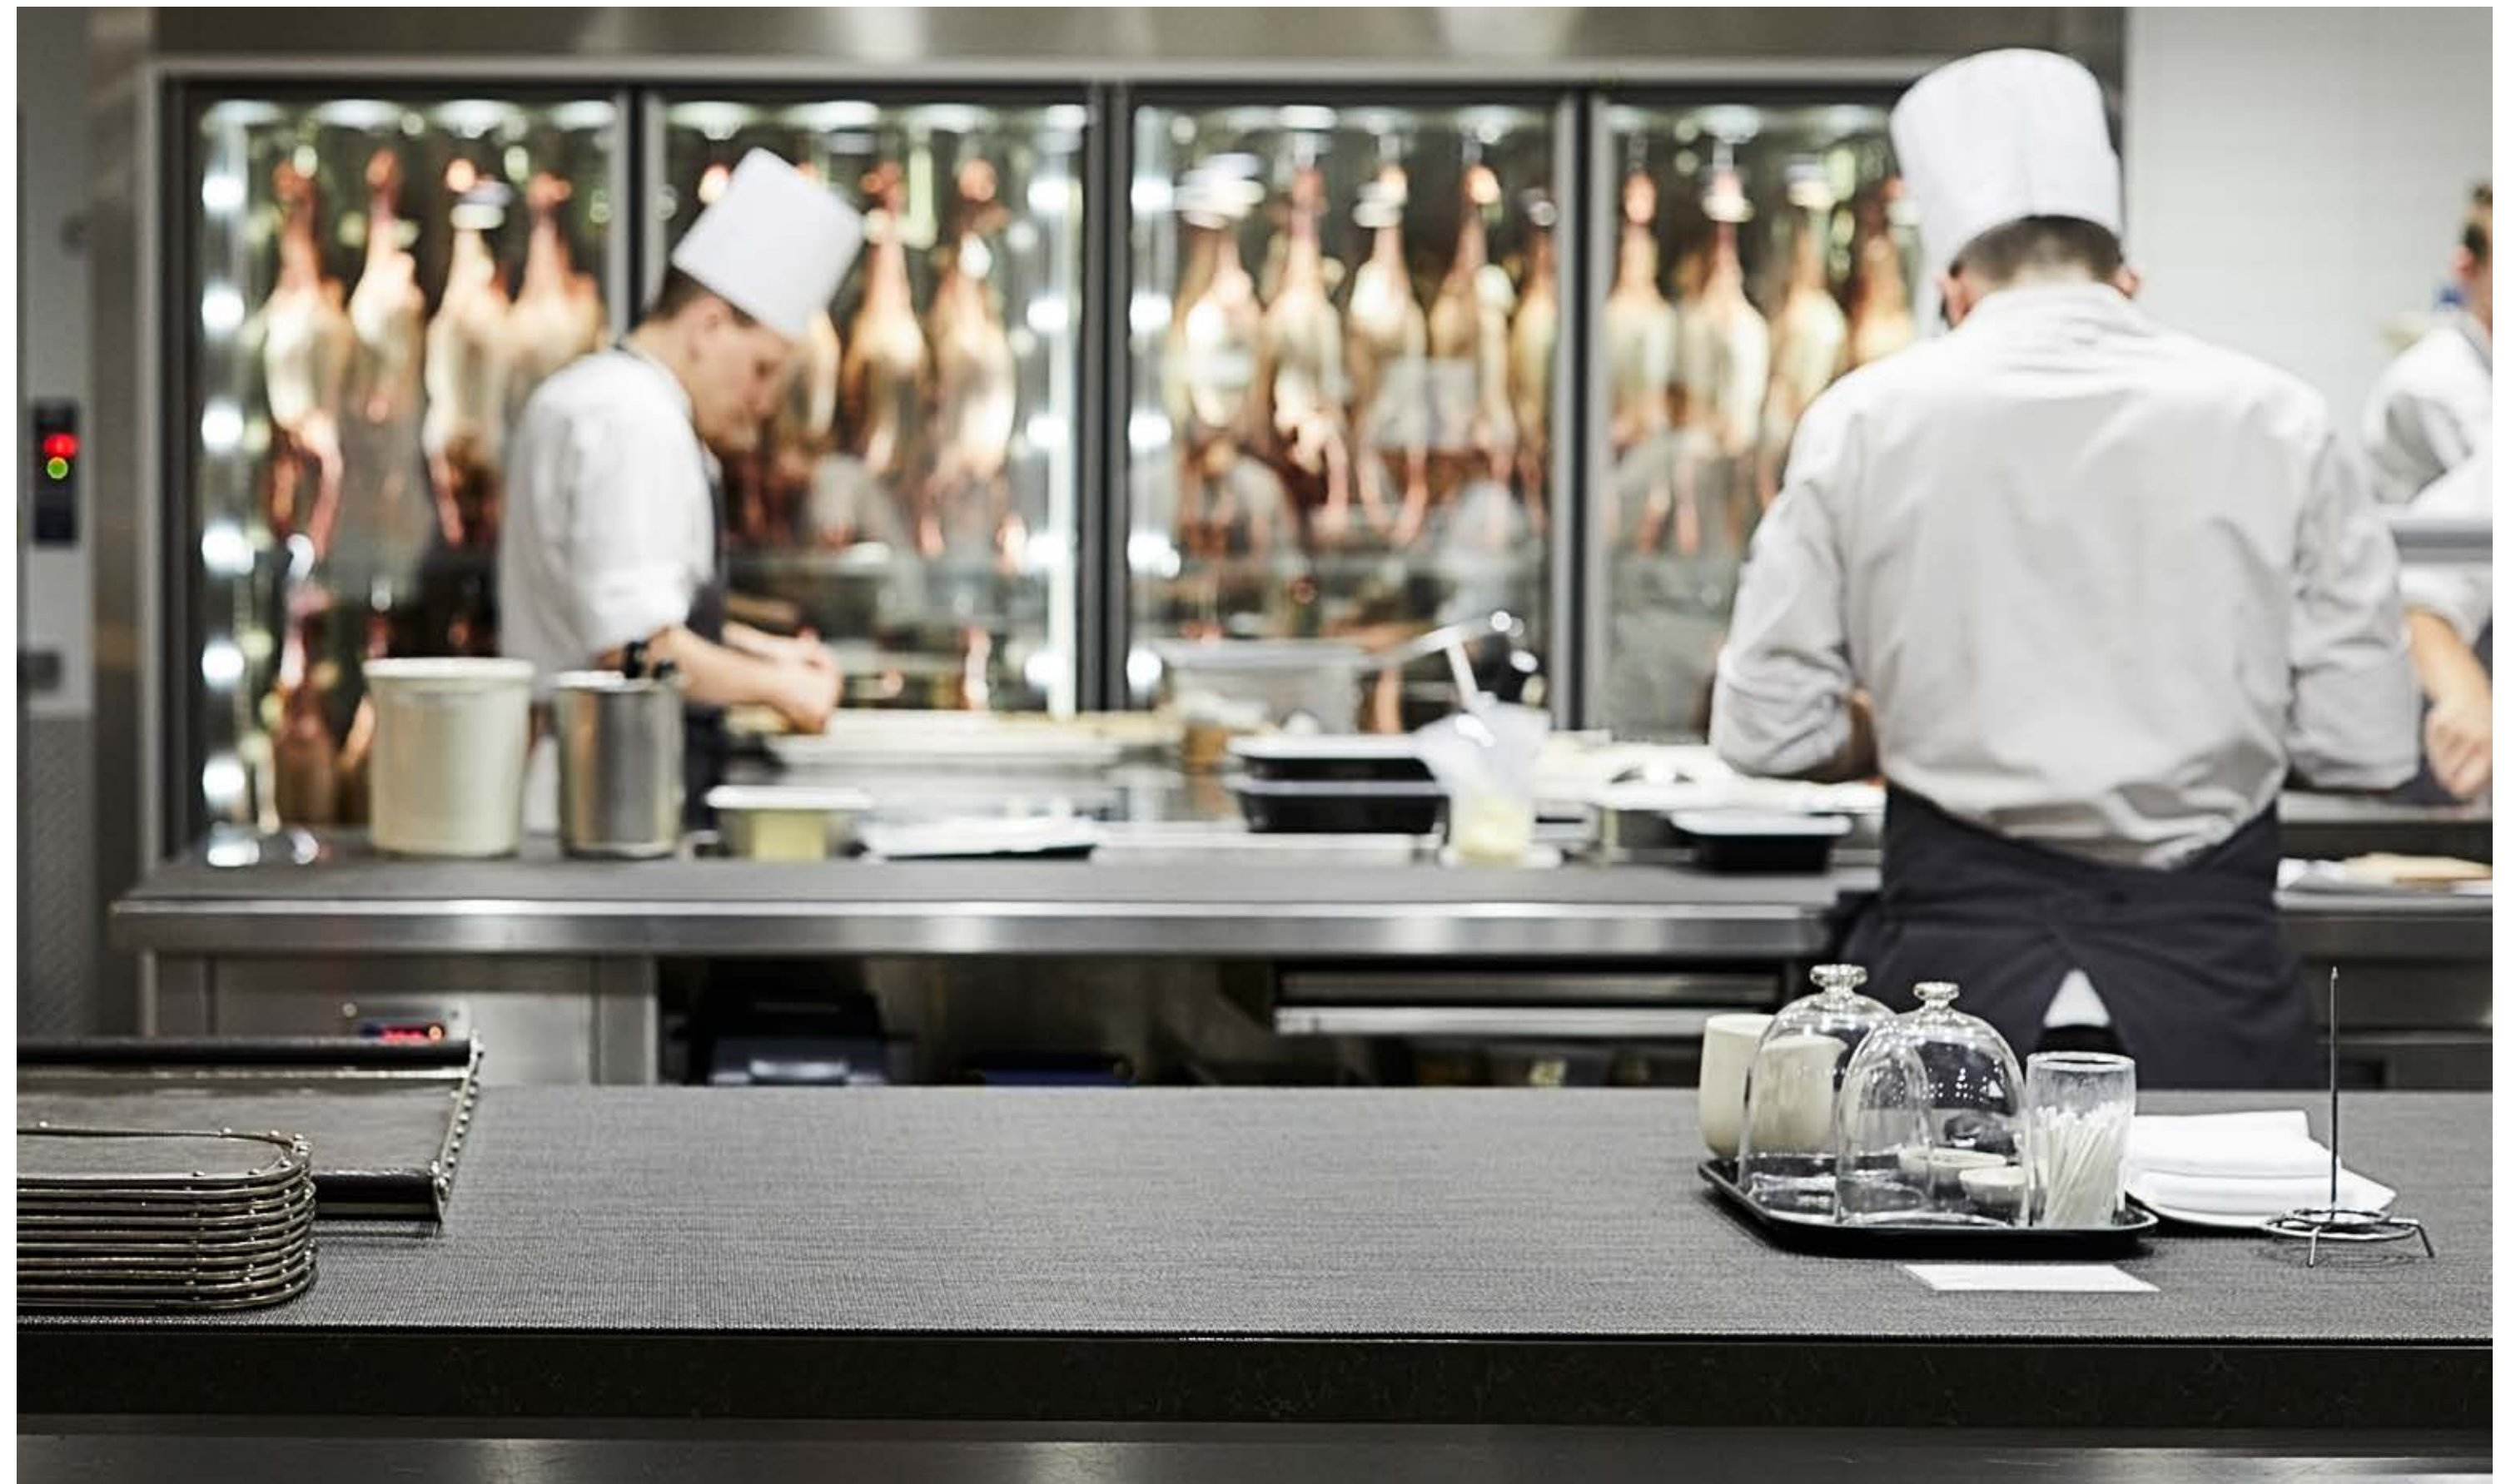

To prepare for service, professional kitchens have historically covered the pass with paper or a tablecloth secured by tape.

Seeking a more thoughtful solution to the daily task of preparing the pass, chef Daniel Humm of Eleven Madison Park came to Chilewich.

With a waterproof, non-slip, anti-microbial backing, Worktops also help to minimize breakage of tableware and decrease ambient noise.

Commercial kitchens are just the beginning.
Worktop can be applied in various spaces, including meeting rooms, corporate kitchens, banquets, coffee/beverage stations, in-room dining,
and as tray liners.
